

KMUTNB Brief Information :

The first lab for 040613701 Section I

Paphawarin Suchantabut

Department of Computer and Information Sciences, Faculty of Applied Science

King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok

Bangkok, Thailand

s6504062610170@email.kmutnb.ac.th

I. INTRODUCTION

KMUTNB was jointly founded by the Royal Thai Government and the Federal Republic of Germany as the North Bangkok Technical School in 1959; colloquially known as Thai-German Technical School. In 1964, the school was upgraded to "Thai-German Technical College" before becoming King Mongkut's Institute of Technology North Bangkok Campus in 1971. Later in 1986, King Mongkut's Institute of Technology separated into three autonomous universities and the North Bangkok campus became King Mongkut's Institute of Technology North Bangkok. In 1995, KMUTNB extended its educational obligations to the rural areas, leading to the creation of the Prachinburi campus in Prachinburi province. Later in 2007, King Mongkut's Institute of Technology North Bangkok was renamed "King Mongkut's University of Technology North Bangkok " and became an autonomous state university. The logo of KMUTNB is shown in Fig 3 and 2.

Fig. 2. The logo of KMUTNB

Fig. 1. The logo of KMUTNB

A. Campuses

- Bangkok campus occupies 14.08 hectares with 43 buildings.
- Prachinburi campus occupies 197.41 hectares with 22 buildings.
- Rayong campus occupies 16 hectares with 9 buildings.

Fig. 3. The logo of KMUTNB